Inspire Ambition

Why inspire ambition?

The brand is primarily trying to reach and facilitate communication between schools/teachers and students from a range of backgrounds and life ambitions. Thus, the brand aims to inspire ambitions, whatever they might mean to each individual.

We inspire ambition by providing a valuable resource to help students to connect with schools and pursue educational goals .

4. Graphics

Imagery:

For Teachia website, imagery should be used to create a visually engaging and inviting experience for the user. Images should feature people of different ages, genders, and races using the language in various contexts, such as conversing with friends, reading books, and engaging in other everyday activities. Additionally, images of the language's written form and of cultural artefacts related to the language should be included.

How to use imagery:

Imagery should be used to help users visualise the language in action and to make the website more visually appealing. Images should be placed strategically throughout the website to draw users' attention and to lead them to relevant content.

Where to use imagery:

Imagery should be used on the home page, as well as on each page of the website, to add visual appeal and to provide context for the language. It should also be used to illustrate the different features of the website, such as the language learning courses, resources, and exercises. Additionally, images can be used to reinforce key concepts and ideas related to language learning.
